What is Didache?

Our library online system is named Didache. The word "Didache" originally comes from Greek, meaning teaching or exhortation. This system is a one-stop search interface for discovering and delivering MHTC Library resources and includes a wide range of electronic resources such as journal articles, news and e-books and printed materials. With Didache you can enjoy fast access to the Library resources from a single search box as well as the facility to renew your borrowed items.

Didache offers four different search tabs:

MH Library Collections + E-Resources

Searches include electronic content, print, audio-visual items subscribed for and held by the Ming Hua Library and more, such as open-access electronic resources.

MH Library Collections

E-Resources

Searches for Ming Hua Library's subscribed e-journal articles, e-books and other open access electronic resources.

Course Reserves

Searches can be by course title or instructor name of MHTC programs.
